

"This edition's theme is... HAPPY DAYS".

Happy Days by Georgina

Cook 9C

Happy Days are on the horizon
When lockdown measures are finally lifted.
Hiding away behind our masks
No wonder our moods shifted.

When lockdown is over,
Friends will reunite
And we'll be able to go out to eat.

Happy Days lie just out of reach
Just one month to go!
Happy Days are on the horizon
And everything will be just so.

Are you happy? That can be a hard question to answer. In life you might always have doubts and life will be a rollercoaster of emotions from doubt to joy. However it is beneficial to stay hopeful and positive, even when it gets hard. I am looking forward to covid restrictions lifting so I can meet with friends and family without constantly worrying about distancing and meeting guidelines. What about you?

Summer's finally come around
Flowers are shining from the ground.
People are meeting and having fun
I'm so happy the Euros have begun.
The sun's coming out from the clouds
Places filling up everywhere full of crowds.
Things are easing in many ways
Let's all get together in these Happy Days

The future is a time of change
A time of change for today
And although it may be strange
Happy days will come.

Look to the future with belief
Do something good every day
Work hard and you'll get relief
Happy days will come.

Put everything in the past
Be good and happiness will stay
Freedom has come at last
Happy days have come!

Live your life with happy days
Live your life with glee.
Sweep all your negative thoughts away
You will have a happier life, don't you agree!

Spread hope and positivity all around
Spread it near and far away.
Smile more often and bury the sadness underground
Have this mindset and it will all come to play.

Live a warm summer sun streaming down on your face.
Love will make you feel warm.
Anger has no place
It is dark like a storm.

Live your life with happy days
Sweep all negative thoughts away.

Hope for the future and all that will come

All the exciting things to be done

People to see

Places to be

You can look forward to happy days.

Days out make me smile

All the places I haven't been in a while

You and me can all say

So excited for happy days

Happy Days by Bertie Rumsey 9D

Flowers are blooming
Sheep are bleating
Children having fun
And picnic eating.
Families sitting in the grass
Children playing sports day, running fast.
Hiking up mountains wearing a backpack
This is when you know spring is back.

Dear Reader

Hope.

Hope is the fresh emerald grass,
Cut so finely a King could mistake it for silk.
It's the warm flames that lick your face
Peppering kisses as you lay alone in a dream world.
It is when you blink and witness a future paved with a thousand forms of joy,
Each colour brighter than the last.

Joy.

It's the smile of a newborn baby,
Reaching its first grasp of this shining, beautiful world.
Joy is the eyes of deep, rich love,
Making you lost to the point you cannot see that hours have flown by,
And it's the sweetest symphony praised by the angels,
To fill your soul with the melodious songs from all the ages.

So to my beloved reader,
Whose heart is young and loved.
Soar, glide the tides of happiness,
And see where time takes you.
Witness the greatest colours, tinges that bring bright
defiance,
Burst out in front of your waiting eyes,
Pulling a smile on those worn out lips.

And laugh so loud that the angels sing its praises.
Laugh loud enough that the world laughs back.

So laugh in your unique dreamscape
Because these are the happy days.
Seize them . . .
